A floor plan diagram of a rectangular garage. The word "GARAGE" is centered in the middle of the rectangle. The diagram includes several lines: a thick black line forming the main rectangular boundary, a thinner black line just inside it, and a grey line further out. On the left side, there are two horizontal lines extending to the left from the inner and outer boundaries. On the right side, there are two horizontal lines extending to the right from the inner and outer boundaries. A vertical line runs through the center of the rectangle from the top edge to the middle. Another vertical line runs along the right side of the rectangle from the top edge to the bottom edge.
